Effort to That End to Be Made Wednesday-Considering State Boundary Line-Charles A. Pierce Ordained Deacon - Bank Resists Attorney Craft's Claim for $50,000.

For the first time since the institu-tion of the Westerly High school, 45 years ago, there will be an effort made next Wednesday to form an alumni so-ciety of all classes of the school, that day having been designated as Alumni day, for the purpose in connection with the annual commencement of the school. Although only graduates within the last decade are expected at Wednesday's meeting, it is expected that organization will be effected and that in the future, perhaps a year hence, every class will be represented. Among a few of the graduates who have achieved national reputation are:

Ewelyn S. Hall, 1874, Wellesley 1879, for many years was the principal of day having been designated as Alumn for many years was the principal of Northfield seminary at Northfield, Mass. Her class in Westerly High was the first to be graduated from the school and she was a member of the first class to be graduated from Wellesley.

Everett T. Tomlinson was graduated from Wasterly High in 1876, the valedictorian of his class. He entered Williams the following fall. For two years he was principal of the Auburn, N. Y. High school. In 1883 he became head master of the preparatory department of Rutgers college, New Brunswick, N. J., and in 1888 he became pastor of the Central Baptist church of Elizabeth, N. J. His chief writings have been stories for boys based on the history of the Revolutionary period.

the Revolutionary period.

Otis E. Randall was graduated from Westerly High in 1880 and from Brown in 1884. He taught in the Providence High school for a time and then be-came instructor in mathematics and civil engineering in Brown. Later he time a professor and is now dean of Charles H. J. Douglas, president of the Brookline, Mass., Boys' school, is another Westerly High school alumnus. Ellen Fitz Pendelton, M. A., Litt. D., LL. D., president of Wellesley, was graduated from Westerly High in 1874.

The first session of the Westerly High school was held Oct. 5, 1870, in the building on Elm street which is now used as a grammar school, the top floor of which was the home of the high school for 30 years. The site of the present school, which was built in 1800 and 1901, was given to school district No. 1 of Westerly by Mrs. Harriet H. Wilcox, whose gifts to her home town Included a beautiful park, a splendid public library and endowments for their upkeep. The schoolhouse stands on land adjacent to Wilcox park, in the heart of Westerly. It is 125 feet long, 74 feet wide and three stories high, of brick in a colonial design of architecture. The classroom and laboratory facilities are exceptional. The present enrollment of the al. The present enrollment of the school is 225, with 10 regular teachers. Opportunity is also given for industrial work for both boys and girls in addition to the regular courses.

The following is a list of the principals of Westerly High school: O. H. Kite, September, 1870, to January, 1873; James Patterson and George D. Hersey, January to June, 1873; N. W. Littlefield, September, 1873, to June, 1874, to June, 1876; Sidney B. Frost, September, 1876, to June, 1878; T. D. Adams, September, 1876, to June, 1878; T. D.
